

Sajtarly Inna, Ishchenko Olena (2024) Philosophy: The Educational-methodical manual: complex of lectures, seminars (practical lessons), test tasks, themes for written work, materials of individual works for students of Educational Program Economics, Educational Level Bachelor. 392 p.

This Manual is composed of the most debated topics in Philosophy, which is of particular interest to the student's audience, namely, it focuses on the analysis of the background categories and the basic concepts of fundamental philosophical trends, starting with the ancient period of its development and ending with so-called Postmodernity. Along with the above, it covers the issues which are closely related to comprehending social, cultural, political and economic phenomena precisely from the angle of philosophical reasoning, in particular, there are such key problems as traditional and contemporary approaches in Philosophy, the main stages of historical development of ontology, the most relevant narratives in Philosophical Anthropology, etc. These papers may be valuable to everyone who is concerned with both Philosophy and the fundamental issues of worldview in general.
